WHO highlights Healthcare Associated Infections (HCAI) and antimicrobial resistance as a global issue for patient safety and healthcare effectiveness (Council Recommendation 2009/C 151/01, 9 June 2009), highlighting as fundamental elements, the education/professional training, certification and development in health, reinforcing the role of the academies in this process of prevention and control of HCAI. The InovSafeCare project appears in this context, aiming to create a new pedagogical approach in the prevention and control of HAI, through the introduction and implementation of the InovSafeCare Model in the training process.
